ARTICLE 1 - RECOGNITION OF THE UNION

Section 1 - Sole Bargaining Agency

- 1.01 The Employer recognizes the Union as the sole bargaining agency on behalf of the employees for whom the Union has been certified as bargaining agent (hereinafter referred to as the "employee(s)") with respect to wages, hours of work, and terms and conditions of employment.

No employee shall be required or permitted to make a written or verbal agreement with the Employer or their representative which conflicts with the terms of this Agreement.

Section 2- Union Shop

- 1.02 All employees who are covered by the Union's Certificate of Bargaining Authority shall maintain membership in the Union as a condition of employment.

Section 3 - No Discrimination

1.03 No Discrimination

The Employer and the Union agree that all Employees will be protected against discrimination respecting their human rights and employment in all matters including age, race, colour, religion, creed, sex, sexual orientation, pregnancy, physical disability, mental disability, illness, or disease, ethnic, or national or aboriginal origin, family status, marital status, source of income, political belief, affiliation or activity, membership in a professional association, business, or trade association, Employers' organization or Employees' organization, physical appearance, residence, or the association with others similarly protected or any other prohibition of the Human Rights Code.

1.04 Personal Harassment

Harassment means engaging in a course of vexatious comment or conduct that is known or ought reasonably to be known to be unwelcome. A single incident, if serious enough, can be sufficient to support an instance of harassment.

Harassment can be either psychological or physical or it can be a combination of both. It is any behaviour, whether deliberate or negligent, which denies individuals their dignity and respect, is offensive, threatening, embarrassing, or humiliating to the individual and adversely affects the working environment.

1.05 Sexual Harassment

This form of sexual harassment may affect individuals or groups. It may be based on gender or sexual orientation. It may take the form of excluding an individual or a group from rights and/or privileges to which they are otherwise entitled.
- c) Cases of sexual harassment will be considered as discrimination and will be eligible to be processed as grievances.
- d) Where the alleged harasser is the person who would normally deal with the first step of such grievances, the grievance will automatically be sent forward to the next step.
- e) No information relating to the grievor's personal background, lifestyle or mode of dress will be admissible during the grievance or arbitration process.
- f) The Employer recognizes the principle that it is their responsibility to maintain a discrimination-free workplace. Therefore, where sexual harassment has been proven, an Arbitration Board will have the additional power to levy a penalty on the Employer.

- 1.10 The Employer will, at the time of making such remittances, enclose a list of such employees' names, addresses, full or part-time. At the same time that the income tax (T4) slips are made available, the Employer shall type on the amount of Union dues paid by each employee in the previous year, from whose pay cheque deductions are made.

An employee shall have the right to have their Union Steward and/or Union Officer(s) present at any discussion with supervisory personnel which the employee believes might be the basis of disciplinary action. Where a supervisor intends to interview an employee for disciplinary purposes, the supervisor shall so notify the employee in advance of the purpose of the interview, in order that the employee may contact their Union Steward and/or Union Officer(s) to be present at the interview.

Section 8 - Contracting Out

- 1.14 To provide job security for the members of the bargaining unit, the Employer agrees that all work or services performed by the employees shall not be sub-contracted, transferred, leased, assigned, or conveyed, in whole or in part, to any other person, company or non-unit employee, should the effect be a reduction in the hours of work or pay of any employee.

The Employer will assume the cost of such retraining. After the period of training, the employee shall have four (4) months to adapt fully to the new position. Should the employee not adapt to the new position, they may then be released by the Employer. The parties agree that where the Employer, the Union and individuals involved, find it acceptable, a position may be shared by two employees in the following manner:

No position will be eligible for job sharing until the incumbent has successfully completed the probationary period (7.02) or trial period (8.08) in the case of an internal hire.

a) Position Currently Held by an Employee
